

Councilwoman Bonner Works With North Shore Youth Council On Substance Abuse Prevention Program

posted on 11/17/2009 10:36:57 AM

ROCKY POINT, NY - Brookhaven Town Councilwoman Jane Bonner recently met with representatives of the North Shore Youth Council to create a Substance Abuse Prevention Program for children and teens in the Rocky Point, Miller Place and Shoreham-Wading River communities. The organization recently received a New York State grant to fund the program, which Councilwoman Bonner was instrumental in applying for and obtaining as a member of the Rocky Point School Board. The program will be designed to prevent and reduce substance abuse among students ages 12-18. Pictured at the planning session are (l. to r.): Jenny Anderson, Councilwoman Jane Bonner, Louise Timms, Janene Gentile, and Mary Heely.

Division of Public Information * Office of the Town Council

One Independence Hill • Farmingville • NY 11738 • Phone (631) 451-6595 • Fax (631) 451-6258